Written By: Michael G. Carr Sr

While U Were Preaching is a story that depicts the realities and pitfalls of a young eager preacher. While pursuing the call as pastorate, he finds himself betraying the very vows he not only promised to God but himself. Having seen first hand the hypocrisy of many preachers both men & women, he finds himself weltering in the same behaviors. The story unfolds in a metropolis city where diverse churches are found throughout the town. What happens when a rumor is no longer a rumor but actual accounts for those we trust or entrust our hearts too? What happens when the preacher/pastor that delivers a powerful word that is life changing but yet not change the man who delivers the message?

While U were preaching centers around three (3) individuals who have been victimized by the influence and power this preacher had. Rather than helping find resolution to the problems these individuals slowly finds themselves engaging in the activities described as damnability and an abomination in the eyesight of God. What happens when the pastor/preacher is found guilty of sexual immorality, drug dealings, and embezzlement? What happens when the one who preaches against same sex marriages yet exploits himself by engaged in the very act? What happens when the preacher goes to change his robe & has a disturbing encounter with the nurse, the arm barer which eventually leads to something they never anticipated? What happens when the preacher/pastor tells the wife he's on his way to visit the sick and detours to the hotel? All these questions are answered as we journey through, "WHILE U WERE PREACHING".

The champion of the story is JESUS CHRIST! After hitting an all time low found in a desolate place, this man finally hears the voice of God but not after nearly losing family members, friends and those who followed him in ministry. The story reveals the haunted, demonic forces and spirits that surround us on a daily basis even "While U We're Preaching". The story reminds us how vulnerable we really are if we're not careful and how easy it is to become victims of our own secret desires. Victory is at the end, light shines through a very dark tunnel, and deliverance is given, vokes destroyed and redemption is sealed!

Looking from the outside everything looks great! Daily people are flocking to the church and membership has increased so much until one day the need for expansion arrives. Life seems great! The 1st Family seems to be doing well. A picture perfect of the white house, 2 children with the picket fence. However as the years goes by, secrets are revealed. Derogation befalls the church and the 1st family. What happens when salvation becomes religion and written word is made as doctrine? What happens when a lie is now known as the truth? The story seems to have many twist & turns, ups & downs but is climaxed with a powerful deliverance of strong holds torn down and destroyed.
